

The Academy of Science of South Africa (ASSAf) advocates for and encourages inclusive political participation for persons living with disabilities.

As the nation commemorates 30 years of democracy in 2024, it reflects on a significant and transformative period of a democratic system founded upon principles of equity, freedom, and human rights enshrined in the Constitution of 1996.

ASSAf is committed to contributing towards inclusive transformation for all differently abled South Africans through its Inclusivity Initiative.
